'ALT BLIR BRA' – OG SÅ VAR DET OVER?

Til Evje & Hornnes kommune.

"Det skjedde aldri. Ingenting skjedde egentlig. Selv mens det skjedde, skjedde det ikke. Det betydde ingenting. Det var ikke interessant." (Harold Pinter; Nobel-foredrag, 2005<sup>1</sup>)

Dag Jørgen Høgetveit; februar 2024

"I det siste året [2021] har PST registrert økt aktivitet blant personer som fremmer antistatlig tankegods. Dette er særlig relatert til konspirasjonsteorier rundt covid-19-pandemien."

"Et sentralt tankegods hos personer med antistatlige overbevisninger er ideen om at staten ikke har et legitimt grunnlag for maktutøvelse. Statens lover og regler oppfattes i stedet som maktmidler som krenker den enkelte borgers frihet og suverenitet." (PST; Nasjonal trusselvurdering 2022; s.5.22)

"Mal-information: Information that is based on reality, used to inflict harm on a person, social group, organisation or country." (<https://en.unesco.org/fightfakenews>)

"The 2024 Annual Meeting of the World Economic Forum takes place from 15 - 19 January in Davos, Switzerland.

The meeting convenes under the theme Rebuilding Trust". (weforum.org)
(Se noter for kortkurs i Davos-anskuelsen; <sup>2,3,4</sup> – WEF Graduate List her.<sup>5</sup>)

"Stortinget vedtok ... 18. desember ... ei endring i smittevernlova"; "... har regjeringa no fått heimel til å vedta tiltak som Stortinget tidlegare klart har avvist, utan at dette har kome fram av korkje debatten eller lovvedtaket sjølv." (Prof. Hans Petter Graver; Dag og Tid 12.01.24)

Professor i rettsvitenskap, Morten Walløe "Tvedt seier han aldri før har opplevd ei behandling så lukka. Han trur samanhengen mellom forhandlingane i WHO og forslaget til endring i smittevernlova kan gi WHO makt til å bestemme over smittevernreglar i Noreg. -Det er noko dei ikkje vil at vi skal få innsyn i rett før dei skal vedta det." (Klassekampen 18.12.23)

Folkhelseinstituttet frarådet aktuelle lovendring.

"-Dette er annen gangs behandling av [smittevern-]lovvedtaket. Det er ikke tradisjon for å ta ordet hvis man ikke har grunnleggende merknader til selve proposisjonen, men jeg føler likevel behov for å adressere de alvorlige konspirasjonsteoriene som er knyttet til denne saken."

"-Konspirasjonsteorier kan være farlige dersom de får fotfeste. Det kan føre til polarisering og mistillit. I ytterste konsekvens kan det true demokratiet... Konspirasjonsteorier på helsefeltet kan være særlig farlige fordi det truer liv og helse, f.eks. når mennesker ikke vaksinerer seg, med de alvorlige konsekvensene det får for en selv og for andre<sup>6</sup>. I enkelte land ble tiltak mot koronapandemien

Det er henvend fire år siden vi fikk føling med et virus det i løpet av få måneder var klart at hadde en dødelighet på høyde med en heftig influensa – senere kom også 'løsningen'<sup>10</sup>. Virus-konstruksjonen har drept millioner – uten at noen derfor er straffedømt – men "Uten myndighetenes drakoniske håndtering ville pandemien forløpt under radaren for folk flest"; "Negative konsekvenser som konkurser, inflasjon, mangelfull skolegang, skolevegring og depresjoner skyldes utelukkende myndighetens håndtering av pandemien og ikke Corona-viruset." Setesdølen 24. desember 2020 – se note hertil<sup>20</sup> – "Jeg oppfordrer alle til å sette seg godt inn i informasjon om vaksinene. Dette finner dere på ... ", fortsetter kommuneoverlegen; han avslutter: "... jeg håper så mange som mulig vil la seg vaksinere."

NRK.no melder 10. juni -21 at "Evje- og Hornnes har som første kommune i Agder vaksinert over halvparten av befolkningen" – 31. juli: "Evje og Hornnes ble denne uken første kommune i Agder hvor over 90 prosent av innbyggerne har fått minst én dose koronavaksine. Det er nå gitt tilbud om vaksine til alle folkeregistrerte over 18 år". Setesdølen skriver 5. august at "57,5 prosent av innbyggjarane over 18 år ... har fått både dose ein og dose to... Kommunen ligg pr. nå på andreplass i landet på statistikken over andel fullvaksinerte innbyggjarar."

"Vaksinene gir oss god beskyttelse mot alvorlig sykdom. Nå er 9 av 10 voksne vaksinert med to doser. Dersom vi tar med alle innbyggere er 8 av 10 beskyttet", skriver Ordføreren 6. november (Setesdølen.no), "Jeg skulle ønske enda flere ville takke ja til vaksine"; Ordføreren "vil oppfordre de uvaksinerte til å vaksinere seg."

Mottatt.

Smittevernlovens formål (ved siden av å "ivareta rettssikkerheten til den enkelte som blir omfattet av smitteverntiltak") er bl.a. "å verne ... ved å forebygge". I aktuell setting har enhver "rett til nødvendig ... informasjon og annen nødvendig forebyggende hjelp" (6-1); kommunen (7-1) er ansvarlig for "behandling" samt "råd og veiledning om hvordan" forebygge; kommunelegen (7-2) "skal" "gi informasjon, opplysninger og råd til befolkningen om vern mot". (Par. 7-9 og 7-10 lister veiledningsplikt m.m. for hhv. Folkehelseinstituttet og Helsedirektoratet.)

Forutsatt at ord tilkjennes mening etter pålydende – hva skulle alt dette innebære? Hva leverte kommunehelsetjenesten?

"De forteller oss ikke hvordan unngå å bli syk [vitamin D3 m.m.<sup>21</sup>] og de gir oss ikke eksisterende, virksomme medikamenter om vi blir syk (så langt vet vi det nødvendige av det vi behøver vite) og de har virket noe snurt om vi ikke vil ha sprøyte deres med eksperimentelle, utilstrekkelige dokumenterte, ikke-godkjente legemidler – praktisk tvangsmedisinering vurderes enn så lenge mindre tjenlig enn uinformert 'samtykke' ved emosjonell tvang." (D.J. Høgetveit, 25.01.22<sup>22</sup>)

Hvordan kunne man ende i en slik situasjon? Hvordan unngå å ende i lignende? Hvilke nødvendige revurderinger? Hvilke lærdommer med overføringsverdi? 5G – som OPS, offentlig-privat samarbeid behøver for et totalovervåkende digitalt økosystem? (5Gs millimeterbølge-teknologi er ikke sikkerhets-testet men den er 'trygg' – i likhet med 'vaksinene'. Telenors dekningskart for kommunen viser god 5G-tilgang der de fleste bor.)

excess mortality is difficult to justify from anything but the introduction of a systematic external factor (such as mass inoculations of an experimental biological product). Additionally, excess mortality seems to be phased from older to younger age groups, as the vaccinations for the different age groups were rolled out. When looking at weekly data, we can almost guess the start of the vaccination by looking at the excess mortality alone."

"The impact of the vaccines is not only shown in excess deaths but also in increases in disabilities. For estimating this increase, we investigated trends in US disabilities. Again, we found an increase starting in early 2021 that this coincides with the vaccine rollout".

"Misinformation and disinformation has risen rapidly in rankings to first place for the two-year time frame, and the risk is likely to become more acute as elections in several economies take place this year." (WEF; The Global Risks Report 2024<sup>27</sup>)

Informasjonskrigen naturligvis; men (herunder) også 'climate change':

"By 2050, six weather-related events will define the destructive impacts of climate change on planetary health. The current analysis conducted indicates that 14.5 million deaths worldwide could be prevented by 2050."

"Even after that disruption of more than a year, 2022 managed to break yet another emissions record, according to the International Energy Agency (IEA), and 2023 is expected to be higher still. Carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>), methane and nitrous dioxide – the three principal greenhouse gases [enn vanndamp?] contributing to global warming – sustained historically high rates of growth last year, with CO<sub>2</sub> now 50% higher than its pre-industrial levels." <sup>29</sup> "A recent report by the Associated Press details the extent to which the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) lied to the world about COVID-19 and covered up their failures, costing precious time and hundreds of thousands of lives. The report also outlines how the World Health Organization (WHO) – led by Director General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus – repeatedly chose to placate the CCP rather than hold them accountable.

Those who followed Tedros' election at the WHO weren't surprised at his actions. After all, it was the CCP, among others, who strongly advocated for him – after they invested $13.3 billion into Tedros' home country of Ethiopia during his time as foreign minister.

To put this in perspective, during the 2003 SARS outbreak, then-WHO Director General Gro Harlem Brundtland spoke publicly against the CCP for withholding information and lying to the world. Compare that to Tedros' consistent glowing praise of the CCP during the COVID-19 outbreak – even though, as the AP reports, the WHO knew the CCP was withholding vital information. While there are some who want to give Tedros the benefit of the doubt regarding the CCP's influence over his decisions, his incompetent management of the COVID-19 response should be enough for a swift dismissal." "To avert catastrophic health impacts and prevent millions of climate change-related deaths, the world must limit temperature rise to 1.5°C. Past emissions have already made a certain level of global temperature rise and other changes to the climate inevitable. Global heating of even 1.5°C is not considered safe, however; every additional tenth of a degree of warming will take a serious toll on people's lives and health." (WHO<sup>30</sup>)

"-And the clock is ticking. We are in the fight of our lives, and we are losing. Greenhouse gas emissions keep growing. Global temperatures keep rising. And our planet is fast approaching tipping points that will make climate chaos irreversible. We are on a highway to climate hell with our foot still on the accelerator." "En global temperaturøkning på vel 2 °C gir oss klimaet vi hadde for 1 000 år siden. Det er gunstig for all vegetasjon, for matvekster, for dyreliv og mennesker, og for klimaet da det blir mer fordamping og nedbør. Det blir også noe mindre temperaturskjell mellom ekvator og polene og derfor mindre uvær.

CO<sub>2</sub> er en lite effektiv drivhusgass. Den utgjør 0,04 % av atmosfæren og står for mindre enn 4 % av den atmosfæriske drivhuseffekten, mens vanndamp og skyer står for ca. 95 %. Ekstra tilførsel av CO<sub>2</sub> og metan (CH<sub>4</sub>) vil ha en ubetydelig virkning på drivhuseffekten, og virkningen på temperaturen lar seg ikke måle." (Klimarealistene<sup>38,39</sup>)

"... man vet at det var varmere enn i dag for 1000 år siden, og enda litt varmere for 2000 år siden... vi i årene 1984-98 hadde en vesentlig kraftigere oppvarming (0,26 C/tiår) enn senere (0,04 C/tiår til 2012), og at usikkerheten i observasjonene i dette årtusenet er større enn restoppvarmingen som dermed ikke er statistisk signifikant... vi i 2021 ... var i det femte året med global nedkjøling." (Geir Aaslid<sup>40</sup>)

In Czech President Vaclav Klaus' "address to the National Press Club on May 27, 2008, he stated, "My today's thinking is substantially influenced by the fact that I spent most of my life under the Communist regime which ignored and brutally violated human freedom and wanted to command not only the people but also the nature." He continues, "My central concern is – in a condensed form – captured in the subtitle of this book [Blue Planet in Green Shackles], I ask: 'What is Endangered: Climate or Freedom?'" Mr. Klaus clearly understands what is at stake. He was born on June 19, 1941, and lived in Communist Czechoslovakia until the Velvet Revolution that formed the Czech Republic in 1989. If any current-day politician understands the meaning of government propaganda, it is Vaclav Klaus. He elaborates:

"I do not, however, live in the past and do not see the future threats to free society coming from the old and old-fashioned Communist ideology. The name of the new danger will undoubtedly be different, but its substance will be very similar. There will be the same attractive, to a great extent pathetic and at first sight quasi-noble idea that transcends the individual in the name of something above him (of something greater than his poor self), supplemented by enormous self-confidence on the side of those who stand behind it. Like their predecessors, they will be certain that they have the right to sacrifice man and his freedom to make their idea reality. In the past it was in the name of the masses (or the Proletariat), this time in the name of the Planet. Structurally, it is very similar.""<sup>41</sup>

ETTERSKRIFT 3

"Konservatisme er motsatsen til modernitetens kulturradikalisme som ligger til grunn for vår tids "wokeisme". De årvåkne har avslørt det vi konservative holder for kjent og kjært. Alle absolutte sannheter er dekonstruert. Nordmenn og europeere bærer ikke på en rik arv, men på strukturert rasisme og diskriminering, og er gjennomsyret av usynlige maktstrukturer. Vår historie og fortid handler først og fremst om kolonisering og imperialisme. Her finnes mye å skamme seg over og lite å bevare."

"Grunntonen i vår tidsånd er misnøye, sinne og en grunnleggende følelse av å ha blitt urettferdig behandlet og krenket. "We will never forgive you", brøler Greta Thunberg og uttrykker refrenget i vår tid. Det handler om oss, her og nå og alle våre rettigheter.

Konservatismen har sin kilde i den andre enden av den emosjonelle skalaen. Min egen konservatisme har sitt utspring i takknemligheten som er den dominerende grunntonen innenfor konservatisme."

"Konservatisme er en filosofi bygget på tilknytning, hevder Sir Roger Scruton. Vi er knyttet til de ting vi elsker og som vi ønsker å beskytte mot forråtnelse. Jeg bærer med meg en rik arv som jeg håper jeg kan forvalte og gi videre til mine egne barn. Konservatisme handler om å sette hjemmet i stand igjen, sier vår venn Scruton. Her er konservatismens innerste vesen og her ligger en konkret oppfordring til oss i en tid som vår." (Jarle Mong; Dagen 20.01.24) Dertil Mong: <https://youtu.be/ZYCNZTidIHQ>.

Kevin D. Roberts, President of The Heritage Foundation, Washington D.C., ble invitert to "join the World Economic Forum's "What to Expect from a Possible Republican Administration?" on Jan. 18".

"Dr. Roberts released the following statement ... on the invitation to attend the globalist sleepaway camp in Davos:

For too long, hypocritical self-avowed Marxists, private-jet environmentalists, and genocide-adjacent humanitarians who descend on Davos for their annual globalist sleepaway camp have wielded their power and influence to fuel their lives of luxury while ordinary people suffer.

No serious person believes that the global elite's grand moral stands over the last generation – bowing to China, erasing borders, worshipping climate extremism – just so happened to directly serve their class interests at the expense of ordinary people's democratic sovereignty and economic opportunity.

And now, they want to hear from The Heritage Foundation how they can 'rebuild trust' with everyday Americans against whom they have weaponized their institutions.

We need the freedom to govern ourselves; to usher the Davoisie into early retirement. Those attending the World Economic Forum need to hear this message. And that's why I'm going to Davos."<sup>42</sup>

That's the thing people have to focus on right now – individual civil preparedness."

"-... he [Gen. Patton] enunciated or he articulated a world view of war, and it was similar to his contemporaries like LeMay and Ridgway and also very Sherman, he was a big admirer of William Tecumseh Sherman. And he basically said that democracies are therapeutic societies and we don't train people, thank God, to kill people, but there are people in the world who do, and when they do, they need people like George Patton who's part of, and yet not part of, a democracy; that understands the evil mind and can make soldiers for brief periods of time have the training and the courage and the fortitude to stand up to the Herman Goering division or Focke-Wulf 190 pilots or u-boats; and that was his principle, and then you would kill these evil people and you protect the innocent and he said that, and we don't like people to say that. When Colin Powell said 'what's your strategy for the first Gulf War', he said we're gonna find the Saddam's army, we're going to cut it off and then we're gonna kill it, and people got very angry – 'why did he have to say "kill it" at the end'?"

Remember when we killed Baghdadi, Nancy Pelosi was bad that Trump said that, ... and then when Trump said we're gonna get rid of these monster, these animals ..., she said they're all God's creatures. So that therapeutic alternative is deeply ingrained, and it's very hard for societies like us to mobilize against these perceived threats without these types of people. So when we were ready after Pearl Harbor to fight, the obvious choice for our first engagement was George S. Patton..."

"-... there's a pattern here of somebody that has undeniable experience, preparation, and natural genius, who understands the horrific nature of war, and bothers the people that command him, and yet sequentially or time and time again, when he is not given a billet or an appointment or a promotion befitting what he's earned on the battlefield, people die – and yet the way that the system or the therapeutic society justifies that, is that he slapped a soldier.

Germans of course were bewildered by this ... it is true that a number of German intelligence officers wouldn't believe that somebody of his talent would be relieved for slapping a couple of soldiers, when German officers killed 25,000 soldiers in World War two; shot them for cowardice or had them ordered shot.

And so, this brings up finally to conclude ... I entitled this talk the Tragic Nature, and I think Patton is symbolic of a problem that all Western societies deal with since the Greeks, that the advent of civilization is a wonderful thing, it creates leisure, it creates material wealth, luxury, it's civilization, it's not tribalism, it's not barbarism. But in that process we become tame, and yet the world around us is not tame, and we don't quite know how to justify using violence against people who want to kill us. This sounds very contemporarily relevant I think – all of you know in that war against terror. And so from time to time we see these fossilized memories of our past, and we bring them out of the proverbial closet, we say help us...

... and so when we see somebody like Patton, and you can see it in our culture, throughout our culture – it's just not military – that was what made John Ford famous, that if you're Ethan Edwards in the searchers, and you want to find a small girl, and you're dealing with some pretty tough Native American tribes, you want somebody with a dubious past – we're not quite told what he was, maybe a Quantrell Raider John Wayne, and you don't know whether he's gonna kill Natalie Wood or not, but he has the skills that both ensure that he's gonna bring her back, but as you remember, once she's back, he opens the door and walks out – you don't want a guy like that there, any more than you want Gary Cooper in High Noon to stay around after he's done what you have to do – shoot four people in the street – you don't want the Magnificent Seven in the village anymore – I remember that famous Yul Brynner and Steve McQueen said 'well, I guess they're happy'. and he said 'they'll even be happier when we leave'.

And I'll just finish by saying that this is not a new phenomenon that we sometimes misdiagnose 'talent' throughout all aspects of American society.

I did make a promise ... I wasn't going to mention the name Donald Trump in this talk, but you can see that this person has certain obnoxious characteristics and certain skill sets that bring results, and you can guarantee that after we are the beneficiaries of the results, he's not going to be on PBS and ten years with ex-presidents shooting the breeze – it's just not going to happen – it's gonna be persona non grata.

And I'll just finish by that, when pre civilized Greece was making this transition to the city state, especially to radical democracy, there were people who saw the same phenomenon. One of the great minds of the Western literary canon, Sophocles, ... in a series of plays he looked at this archetype of the oligarchic, aristocratic class that we had, all of these anti-democratic skills; and you needed them ... but he makes these characters come out, and by every measure of talent and courage and bravery they excel, and yet they all end up badly, because to reward them for those very characteristics would be a referendum on your own society. And I think that's a dilemma we all have to appreciate, not asking us to change our views, but to every once in a while look in the corners, and when we see dark people, maybe they're not so dark after all. Thank you very much."

Samt Victor Davis Hanson om Gaza – her: <https://youtu.be/X33QkII5IcE?t=2942>

"The reality is that when it comes to avoiding civilian harm, there is no modern comparison to Israel's war against Hamas. Israel is not fighting a battle like Fallujah, Mosul, or Raqqa; it is fighting a war involving synchronous major urban battles. No military in modern history has faced over 30,000 urban defenders in more than seven cities using human shields and hiding in hundreds of miles of underground networks purposely built under civilian sites, while holding hundreds of hostages. Despite the unique challenges Israel faces in its war against Hamas, it has implemented more measures to prevent civilian casualties than any other military in history.

Some have argued that Israel should have waited longer to start its war, should have used different munitions and tactics, or should not have conducted the war at all. These calls are understandable, but they fail to acknowledge the context of Israel's war against Hamas, from the hundreds of Israeli hostages to the daily rocket attacks on Israeli civilians from Gaza to the tunnels, and the real existential threat of Hamas poses Israel and its citizens, who live within walking distance of the warzone.

To be clear, I am outraged by the civilian casualties in Gaza. But it's crucial to direct that outrage at the right target. And that target is Hamas."

"The sole reason for civilian deaths in Gaza is Hamas. For Israel's part, it's taken more care to prevent them than any other army in human history." (John Spencer; chair of urban warfare studies at the Modern War Institute (MWI) at US Military Academy, West Point.<sup>55</sup>)

"I Krystallnatten mellom 9. og 10. november 1938, ble omkring 100 jøder i Tyskland drept i en pogrom iscenesatt av nazistene. Den 7. oktober 2023, gjennomførte Hamas et grotesk overraskelsesangrep i Israel på høytidsdagen Simcha Torah mot landsbyer, kibbutzer og en stor musikkfestival. Antall drepte jøder er ca. 12 ganger større enn nazistenes myrderier i Krystallnatten. Naziregimet gjorde ikke flere slike pogromer som i Krystallnatten i Tyskland. En av grunnene var at få tyskere var villige til å begå mord og voldtekter ansikt til ansikt med sine jødiske medmennesker. Synet av drap og ødeleggelse skremte bort like mange som det inspirerte, mens det overveldende flertall foretrakk å lukke øynene og holde for ørene, men fremfor alt å holde munn. Dette førte til at nazistene fant opp industrielt drap på jøder, som dødsleirene Auschwitz og andre. Hamas har ingen lignende motvilje mot grusomheter. Hamas drepte så mange de kom over, gjennomførte groteske seksuelle overgrep, halshugget spedbarn, bandt ofre sammen og sette fyr på dem og flere andre uhørte voldshandlinger mot sivile. Hamas publiserte selv disse overgrep på alle kanaler som er tilgjengelige for dem, dokumentert ved deres egne kroppsfastede kamera. Lederne i Hamas har erklært at slike bestialske handlinger er noe de vil gjenta og gjenta."
 ""Departementets tilråding er at det ikke kondoleres fra H.M. Kongen i tilknytning til konflikten mellom Israel og Hamas — I lys av konfliktens politiske natur vurderes det som naturlig at ev. kondolanser i det foreliggende tilfelle går fra regjeringen."

"For Norge, i eller utenfor et nært europeisk samvirke, med eller uten garantier om støtte utenfra i krise, vil de sikkerhets- og forsvarspolitiske analyser fortsatt måtte ta utgangspunkt i at vi ligger der vi ligger. Vårt land flankerer en euroasiatisk, ikke alltid rasjonell kjempe i øst, et ressursrikt og omstridt Arktis i nord, et ressursrikt og strategisk viktig Atlanterhav i vest og et dynamisk Europa i syd. Den stillingen er varig. Det meste øvrige er bevegelig...

Det er vanskelig å komme utenom at vår sikkerhet under enhver omstendighet er betinget av at vi selv har et holdbart, nasjonalt fotfeste." (Gen. Fredrik Bull-Hansen; Aftenposten 20.11.95)

Den aktuelle situasjonen er vel for Norges vedkommende (uten mat og reelt forsvar) mye rigget for å lede til EU-medlemskap – innlemmelse i Romerriket<sup>58</sup>.

"They were not rigging the election":

"To the President, something felt amiss. "It was all very, very strange," Trump said on Dec. 2 [2020].

"Within days after the election, we witnessed an orchestrated effort to anoint the winner, even while many key states were still being counted.

In a way, Trump was right."

"This is the inside story of the conspiracy to save the 2020 election". ""... it's massively important for the country to understand that it didn't happen accidentally. The system didn't work magically.

Democracy is not self-executing." "There was a conspiracy unfolding behind the scenes, one that both curtailed the protests and coordinated the resistance from CEOs. Both surprises were the result of an informal alliance between left-wing activists and business titans."

"They got states to change voting systems and laws and helped secure hundreds of millions in public and private funding."

"That's why the participants want the secret history of the 2020 election told, even though it sounds like a paranoid fever dream – a well-funded cabal of powerful people, ranging across industries and ideologies, working together behind the scenes to influence perceptions, change rules and laws, steer media coverage and control the flow of information. They were not rigging the election; they were fortifying it. And they believe the public needs to understand the system's fragility in order to ensure that democracy in America endures." Men tilbake til Victor Davis Hanson: "During Biden's tenure, the U.S. military has suffered historic shortfalls in recruitment, the disastrous humiliation in Afghanistan, a new DEI [diversity, equity, and inclusion] commissariat that wars on meritocratic promotions and assignments, the politicization of generals and admirals, the hyped but otherwise inane effort to root out mythical white supremacists and "domestic terrorist" bogeymen from the ranks, and the expulsion of some of our best soldiers for their reluctance to be vaccinated, many of them having developed natural immunity from prior infection.

The Pentagon is short on ships and planes. U.S. weapons stocks are dangerously low, drained by the abandonment of billions of dollars of equipment to the Taliban, the resupply efforts to Ukraine and Israel, the failure of the Biden administration to fund the restocking of our munitions and to ramp up resupply production – and a $35 trillion national debt fed by $2 trillion annual deficits.

Add eight million illegal aliens who pranced over a nonexistent southern border<sup>65,66</sup>, nearly uninhabitable big-city downtowns, an epidemic of violent crime, and a president who resuscitates mostly to blast half the country as "semi-fascists" and "ultra-MAGA" extremists. Etter Victor Davis Hanson om "Biden's tenure", passer å gå til Tucker Carlson i Moskva: <https://tuckercarlson.com/why-were-in-moscow/>; samt hans intervju med President Vladimir Putin: <https://tuckercarlson.com/the-vladimir-putin-interview/>.

Forresten – Davis Hanson igjen<sup>67</sup>: "... and – he [Gen. Patton] had that prophetic ability ... that while most people are glued or concentrated or focused in the present, he's always thinking of the future". Profet eller ikke – noen lever i nuet; andre i historien, i the long game; kanskje på sjakkbrettet.

Spurt om bakgrunnen for invasjonen i Ukraina, begynner Vladimir Putin ti år før slaget i Hafrsfjord – med Tucker Carlson: "At the beginning of the interview, we asked the most obvious question, which is why did you do this? Did you feel a threat, an imminent physical threat, and that's your justification? And the answer we got shocked us. Putin went on for a very long time, probably half an hour, about the history of Russia going back to the eighth century. And honestly, we thought this was a filibustering technique and found it annoying and interrupted him several times, and he responded. He was annoyed by the interruption. But we concluded in the end, for what it's worth, that it was not a filibustering technique ... what you're about to see, seemed to us sincere whether you agree with it or not."

To timer etter intervjuet begynte, og man for lengst er inne i nyere historie, hevder Putin – med rette – at "They have driven the situation to the point where we are at. It is not us who have done that. It is our partners, opponents who have done that. Well, now let them think how to reverse the situation. We're not against it. It would be funny if it were not so sad."

Stephen K. Bannon har en god halvtime med Landon & Robby Starbuck ifm. deres film The War on Children (filmtrailer m.m. er ikke vakkert) – her nevnes 'den lange marsjen gjennom institusjonene', WHO, UN, WEF ...; <https://warroom.org/warroom-battleground-ep-464-keeping-the-state-out-of-the-family-2/>; "... this is not something that just sprung out over night because wokeness went crazy – wokeness itself is a result of the long march through the institutions..." (Robby Starbuck)

Etter Kevin Roberts kan være stedet å sitere Kongehuset.no: "Når Kronprinsen nå [2010] går inn i stiftelsesstyret for Young Global Leaders, er det en naturlig videreføring av hans engasjement i WEF, YGL og GRI [Global Redesign Initiative]." "Styrets oppgave er strategisk utvikling av YGL, opprettelse av komiteer, revisjon og kontroll. Styreleder er grunnleggeren av World Economic Forum (WEF), Klaus Schwab."<sup>70,71</sup> Skriver Kongehuset.no 08.10.10.

Og 22.11.22<sup>72</sup>: "Da programmet Young Global Leaders ble etablert i 2005, ble han [H.K.H.K.] invitert inn som medlem – noe han var frem til 2010, da han gikk inn i styret for YGL. Kronprinsen trådte ut av styret i 2017."

"Stiftelsen Verdens økonomiske forum (WEF) samler hvert år rundt 2000 deltakere på sitt toppmøte i Davos. Kronprins Haakon deltok på sitt første møte i 2005, og har siden vært en aktiv deltaker."

Det synes på overtid for H.K.H.K. å starte Rebuilding Trust om han skulle ønske å møte real-nordmenn med 'Alt for Norge'.

Liberating Canada: The Calgary Speech. Tucker Carlson, Calgary 24. januar:

<https://tuckercarlson.com/liberating-canada-the-calgary-speech/><sup>73</sup>: "-It doesn't matter who's in the Prime minister's office – your rights remain the same because you were born with them, because you are not a slave, you're a human being and you have inherent dignity because God made you. That's just a fact."

(The Speech er fulgt av Carlson & Jordan B. Peterson – bl.a. om WEF. "... you know what the opposite of integration is? Disintegration – it's not that hard to figure out...." (Peterson)

Carlson, Edmonton same dag<sup>74</sup>: "... the West is now facing a far slyer opponent [than "the, kind of, masculine expression of fascism"], which is the feminine expression of fascism...<sup>[75]</sup> all about your protection and safety – now, we're just trying to help you; that's why you're in shackles... So, that's kind of more diabolical than we've seen in previous generations, and it's much more effective in a committedly polite country like Canada, because you don't know that it's happening... Their attack on your rights, which is an attack on you and your children, is cloaked in a language of therapy, selfhelp, and compassion... They hijacked the language of the Gospel to crush the Gospel."

One of the most brilliant explanations of the modern world you'll ever hear." "... it's between two neo liberal, what you might term centrist parties, that are ultimately dominated and controlled by the same concerns, where an extraordinary focus is spent on the tiny minute differences... They may quibble about some issues that seem significant, and certainly those issues are stoked and amplified. But neither ..." (Brand)

"-Laugh in their faces – nothing is more empowering to you and more disempowering to them, than laughter. Because the one thing they want is to be taken seriously; these are broke people, these are hollow people, who are desperate for power because there's nothing else inside. There's nothing else inside. A normal person doesn't lust for power – he doesn't. He can use power to effect good, but power for its own sake is not interesting to him – in fact it's dangerous, and wise people stay away from it. And so the kind of people who do lust for power are freaks, they're psycho-freaks, and the last thing they want is for you to say that out loud, because they melt – like a vampire at noon – they just disappear. And the second you laugh at them you realize how good it feels to tell the truth. And you are empowered by the spirit of truth when you do that, and you become stronger."

"Den som tror på ham [Guds Sønn], blir ikke dømt; den som ikke tror, er allerede dømt, fordi han ikke har trodd på Guds enbårne Sønnns navn. Og dette er dommen, at lyset er kommet til verden, og menneskene elsket mørket fremfor lyset; for deres gjerninger var onde. For hver den som gjør ondt, hater lyset og kommer ikke til lyset..." (Joh.3,18-20)

"-Do you understand life? Do you understand men? Do you understand history? Do you understand the future? Are we thinking about all these things in a Christian manner or in a non-Christian manner – it's one or the other."

"-... – this which looks so ordinary and which baffles the wisdom of men and poses him to stumble; 'If only they could see, if only they could know'; but they don't know, and they won't be taught. That's the difficulty." (Martyn Lloyd-Jones; This Worlds Wisdom Made Foolish<sup>76</sup>)

"-The Christian's outlook upon everything is governed by the revelation which he has in the Bible. This is the wisdom from God. You see, there are only two possibilities this morning, with regard to our thinking and our outlook upon life and upon the whole present situation – we are either approaching it in terms of human thought, human philosophy, human understanding, which includes, of course, politics, sociology and economics and all the rest of it – we are either doing that, or else we are looking down upon it all from the standpoint of this wisdom. – You see there's a fundamental difference at once."

"-The difference between the two outlooks is mainly one of depth; depth of understanding. The world never sees anything except that which is on the surface, and it reacts very superficially. It has no other dimension, of course. It believes man is everything, there is nothing apart from men; men is in control of the affairs of this universe, and there is no higher power, there is no ultimate authority, there is no other activity; it's entirely human, so it looks on the surface, on the horizontal, and it sees nothing but that. But the man who has got the mind of Christ, the man who has this wisdom that is obtained from God through the teaching of the Bible, is in an entirely different position." (Lloyd-Jones<sup>77</sup>)

"For ordet om korset er vel en dårskap for dem som går fortapt, men for oss som blir frelst, er det en Guds kraft." (1.Kor.1,18)

"Er da enn vårt evangelium skjult, så er det skjult blant dem som går fortapt, i hvem denne verdens gud har forblindet de vantro sinn, for at lyset fra evangeliet om Kristi herlighet, han som er Guds billede, ikke skal skinne for dem." (2.Kor.4,3-4)

Mot slutning henvises til oppbyggelse ved erke-lutheraner Johan Sebastian, hvis forfar forøvrig, Veit Bach, rømte katolske Ungarn; her: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WrXLtpjPZ0E>.

"Det lover jeg at jeg ikke skal blote til noen gud, som gjeve menn nå, uten til den ene som skapte solen, og verden og satte den i stand."

"Den som har fått noe vett, vet at bare den er Gud som alle ting har skapt. Da vil han også til fulle hjelpe mennesket, fordi han har skapt mennesket, som alt annet; derfor vil jeg strekke meg etter det mens jeg lever." (Harald Hårfagre<sup>78</sup>; ca. 850 – ca. 912)

"Dei gamle sette kristenretten fremst i lovbøkene sine", skriv sidan Knut Robberstad.<sup>79</sup>

"Det er upphavet til lovene våre at me skal bøygja oss mot aust og beda til den heilage Krist um godt år og fred og um det at me må få halda landet vårt bygt og hava landsherren vår helsig; han vere vår ven og me hans vener, men Gud vere venen åt oss alle."

"Grunnlaget i Gulatings-kristenretten er den lov som Olav den heilage og biskop Grimkjell vart samde um på Mostrartinget i 1024 og som sidan vart vedteki av folket på lagtingi. Det var ikkje kongen og biskopen, men folket som gav lover, og det Olav og Grimkjell vilde hava innført, laut difor verta vedteke av folket på lagtinget i kvart lagdøme."(Robberstad)

Tusen år og fler; og nå er det slutt med det alt – eller er det ...?

"-The Founders ... spoke and used Biblical metaphors everywhere ... they were steeped in the Word of God, right; the Bible is the Word of God."

"-Get back to the basics, get back to God and God's creation and why you're here; and that's a personal relationship, right, only you can experience that; and so when you're celebrating this country, don't go halfway, ... look at what made the Founders great." (Dave Brat<sup>80</sup>)
