

THE LIE

"Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not." (Jesus Christ; John 8,44-45)

"When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation." (Jesus Christ; Matthew 12,43-45)

Somewhat puzzled by what's sensed in the air? Take time with the following.

The Climate Cult is not the basic lie, but it's kind of all-engulfing and a good place to start:

"-It's gotten to where it has nothing to do with the science anymore. It doesn't matter if your alarmist prediction doesn't come true. You're still going to retain your status as an expert, and the media is still going to come and ask you for your opinion, even though you were crazy wrong about your predictions." (Dr. Roy Spencer)

Document.no made me aware of Martin Durkin's Climate: The Movie – The Cold truth; a couple of more quotes:

"-You've now had decades of putting the idea in people's heads, that anytime the weather is bad, it's climate change and greenhouse gases; so I think people at this point can't help themselves – if you have a heat wave, immediately everybody's thinking: Oh what have we done to the weather." (Dr. Ross McKittrick)

"-Policy agenda has sprawled into micromanaging everybody's lives on the most minute detail; of what kind of stove you can use, what kind of heater you can have, how much you can set the thermostat out, where you can drive<sup>[1]</sup>, what kind of car, you can't ... according to the planners we're not going to have internal combustion engines an hour from now." (McKittrick)

After the Climate Cult, it's reasonable to come to grips with something called the evolution and with the underpinning MOY – 'millions-of-years' – and its accomplishments:

<sup>1</sup> Cf. 'geo fencing & geo timing'; <https://www.infowars.com/posts/modern-cars-enslaving-owners-in-dystopic-technocratic-takeover/>. And: "A proposal from the European Commission that has not yet been ratified aims to phase out older vehicles ...

Cars that have faulty components such as engine, transmission, brakes or steering and are considered old (potentially around 15 years) will fall into the decommissioned category. They will not be able to undergo significant repairs and most likely be scrapped." <https://www.document.no/2024/02/27/eu-vil-ha-slutt-pa-at-gamle-biler-skal-kunne-repareres/>

"- And most importantly: he has led countless souls into the same path that he took. We're talking about hundreds of millions of people who decided to follow Darwin away from the light and into the darkness, and I assert to you, that without any question, Darwin was the greatest atheist maker who ever lived. May we repeat that: he is the greatest atheist maker who ever lived – and so, for the Church which says 'we're comfortable with Darwin,' ..." (John Sanford)

"-But the problem didn't start with Darwin – Darwin did not come up with the idea of millions of years. If he hadn't had a scientific community that was already committed to millions of years, his theory would have been dead in the womb. He needed those millions of years to make his theory seem believable. The problem was [Charles] Lyell and [James] Hutton, and so the problem is really ultimately the age of the Earth, not Darwinian evolution."

"-These men were not unbiased, objective pursuers of truth, just letting the facts speak for themselves. There is no such thing – never has been. Every human being has a worldview – he either believes in God or he doesn't believe in God, believes this book is from God, or doesn't believe it's from God. Every human being, every scientist has a worldview. Don't let atheists deceive you into thinking that they just go out and look at the world and let the facts speak for themselves. There is no such person – never has been.

Now I want you to notice something else. These men were consciously anti-Christian living in Christian Europe, so they were very biased and their ideas affected how they thought about Earth history. James Hutton up there in Scotland said ..." (Terry Mortenson)

"... lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what wisdom is in them? (Jer. 8,9)

And then – those who are acting as gods:

"For an individual to wake up some morning with no memory would be devastating... It would not be much better to wake up some morning with a false memory, induced in you by some means by some other person – to serve that other person's purposes, with all memories expunged that do not serve that end and other memories twisted or created out of thin air to make you the willing instrument of some ulterior design." (Thomas Sowell<sup>5</sup>)

"-Think about it; what we've done is engineered a genetic therapy that causes people's body, when injected – we've injected this into well over a billion persons – causes people's body to manufacture a bio-engineered toxin – that being the spike protein – and they took the bio-engineered spike protein from this virus that had been engineered at the Wuhan Institute, and swapt[?] it directly into gene therapy vectors ... injected them into people and caused their bodies to manufacture the very toxin that the Bat Lady had been working to weaponize for over a decade – just think about that for a minute." "Why did the medical establishment push the Covid vax on the world even when they knew it didn't work? Dr. Michael Nehls says it wasn't about money. It was about conquering the human mind."
(Tucker Carlson)

"- ... when in 2007, 2008, the first papers came out on how SARS-CoV1, specifically the spike protein, is able to activate the new inflammatory process, shutting down the production of these nerve cells in the hippocampus in our autobiographical memory center, the consequences are clear. In the short term, you are prone to depression. In the long term, you're actually prone to Alzheimer's if you don't change the course of events.

Of course, in that time, the spike protein was not, I think, able to actually enter the brain; and they changed that... when you look back 15 years ago, it was clear that the spike protein is a bio weapon against the brain, particularly the part of the brain which we call our – or I call – our mental immune system, which is the very important part that makes us human, you know, which allows us to think, which allows us to be curious, which allows us, yeah, to explore the world and develop a culture; everything. So the spike protein essentially attacked humankind, the very basis of humans. Of course, at that time, the spike protein was kind of, yeah, not very dangerous, because it was an external inflammation outside the brain, which, of course, is transmitted to the brain, that's known. And so we had an indirect neuroinflammation. If you really want to attack the brain, you have to get the spike protein into the brain." (Michael Nehls. And it's worse – but 'we don't want to know', Arthur Firstenberg says. Or see notes.<sup>10,11</sup>

After the civilization-unwinders, atheist-makers & God-usurpers – Is there a Word from God, the Creator?

Compare modern Bible-versions, and you could wonder if The Book even exists – but it does ...

Most modern Bible-'translators' don't really translate the original Bible-text.

"Formerly the central question was what one translated. Today the central question is for whom is one translating. The attention is shifting from translating into English language to translating for English-speaking people." (Jakob van Bruggen<sup>12</sup>)

But what is the original text – the dispute is primarily on the NT – where does it come from?

"The comparison of a number of modern translations indicates that the years since [the 'revision' of] 1881 have witnessed a growing uncertainty with regard to the New Testament text. Critics today no longer choose one manuscript or textual group as the basic text, but reconstruct from all sorts of manuscripts a new, hypothetical text." (Bruggen<sup>13</sup>)

A KIND OF SUMMING UP SOME THINGS

"A "color revolution" is a coup d'état accomplished through mass protests targeting the existing government, elected or not, with the assistance of the media – and, usually, with backing from foreign powers, including the United States."

" ... early March, U.S. intelligence agencies released an assessment that stated that "we expect large protests demanding [Netanyahu's] resignation and new elections. A different, more moderate government is a possibility."" Days later, "U.S. Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-NY)

<sup>10</sup> Firstenberg: "-We ... know causation. It's not just a correlation. We have all these studies; experimental, epidemiological clinical studies. We know the mechanism and it's been proven many times over and long ago. We know the cause, we know the mechanism, but we're ignoring it as a society. We don't want to know."

"-We are electromagnetic beings ... Our nervous system runs on electricity. We're like an analog and digital computer, both. Robert Becker proved this back in the 1980s... Our heart, our cardiac rhythm is purely electric... Our brain is electric.

When you immerse yourself in electromagnetic fields, electromagnetic radiation, you interfere with nerve function, neurological function, you interfere with cardiac function, you cause arrhythmias. In the mitochondria of every cell of every living creature, you have an electron transport system. The electron transport system is the last step in food metabolism...

The electromagnetic field affects electrons. It interferes with electron transport and interferes with metabolism and effectively makes metabolism less efficient and starves us of oxygen ... The modern epidemics of cancer, heart disease and diabetes, exactly those three diseases, are due in large part to the expanding sea of radiation that we're all swimming in." <https://www.westonaprice.org/podcast/272-the-shocking-truth-about-electricity-emfs-with-arthur-firstenberg/#gsc.tab=0> delivered a bizarre speech demanding new elections in Israel to oust Netanyahu. President Joe Biden backed Schumer, calling for regime change in Israel (and not Iran)." (Joel B. Pollak<sup>15,16</sup>)

No Trump, no Netanyahu – they are both national-minded ...

"Before Oct. 7, rioters demanded the overthrow of Netanyahu's coalition due to its "anti-democratic" policies and "corruption" The new rallying cry is to free the hostages." "They also involve massive exaggerations of the number of protesters. On Sunday night in Jerusalem, for instance, organizers proclaimed the participation of 100,000 protesters. But aerial photographs of the event indicate that at most, a tenth of that number showed up."

"But what is clear enough is that the people of Israel – while deeply sympathetic to the fate of the hostages – will not be taken for a ride and will not allow the State of Israel to be driven into political chaos. The riot leaders and the [US] administration may well believe that the enemy is the Israeli government. But the Israeli public isn't buying it. On Oct. 7, the people's eyes were opened, and they will not be closing any time soon." (Caroline B. Glick<sup>17</sup>)

"It is not as if no one knew about the dangers. From Henry Kissinger to Zbigniew Brzezinski to George Kennan, experienced American statesmen have warned that even talking about Westernizing Ukraine through NATO might be fatal to peace. As John Mearsheimer cautioned us in September 2015, "the West is leading Ukraine down the primrose path, and the end result is that Ukraine is going to get wrecked." Mearsheimer's prescient speech has received 21 million views on YouTube, almost half in the last few weeks, with Washington insiders and media poohbahs excoriating him as a Putin apologist, even as a petition campaign was launched to get Mearsheimer fired from the University of Chicago. We would have better off heeding his warning." (Sean McMeekin<sup>18</sup>)<sup>19</sup>

"-Look at what we're saying about Israel. So, Israel is supposed to be proportionate. Do we ever say to Ukraine: Now, listen, Mr. Zelensky, we've given you HIMARS, we've given you Abrams, we've given you – we're going to give you F-15s, we've given you Javelins, but we want you to respond to each Russian attack with a commiserate response. And then we say to them: We're kind of worried because you've killed two Russians for every Ukrainian; that's dispropor... – no, and we don't say to Mr. Zelensky: You know, you hit a bridge in Crimea, and you hit a big highway in the Donbas; did you notify the civilians around there; did you drop leaflets; did you text their phones – no, and then we said ... – or to turn it the other way: What if Joe Biden said to Netanyahu: Bibi, if you wanted to declare martial law and suspend election, that's fine with us; you might have to do it. That would be unthinkable, that's what we did with Zelensky, he hasn't had election and he enacted martial law, so we have this disproportionate attitude, that all these people on the left are saying: Be disproportionate,

And it needs more matériel than the United States can provide. This reality must inform any future Ukraine policy, from further congressional aid to the diplomatic course set by the president.

The Biden administration has applied increasing pressure on Republicans to pass a supplemental aid package of more than $60 billion to Ukraine. I voted against this package in the Senate and remain opposed to virtually any proposal for the United States to continue funding this war. Mr. Biden has failed to articulate even basic facts about what Ukraine needs and how this aid will change the reality on the ground." "-I do trust I'm making it abundantly clear, that law is absolutely vital and essential, and that the moment we turn our backs upon this whole concept of laws – we find it in the Bible – we are heading for disaster.

Now many evangelical people, as I'm saying, have encouraged this; they say: Don't preach the law any longer – invite people to come to Christ; don't preach the law, don't condemn, don't denounce – just tell them to come to Christ; and they've been aiding and abetting this whole tendency to do away with law, and to lead to the modern chaos." (Martyn Lloyd-Jones)

"-Moral example – does men rise to moral example? If he did, the picture of Christ has been here before him for nearly two thousand years; they will all long since have risen and followed him, but they don't. Because men is fundamentally evil, and because he doesn't know that he needs sanctions, that he needs law. The human heart is desperately wicked and deceitful – who can know it? The Bible in other words puts it like this, that there is nothing finally which is so wrong, as to appeal in Christian terms to people who are not Christians. That is terrible heresy. A man who's not a Christian, cannot be expected to live the Christian life, and to ask him to do so, is a denial of the truth of the Bible. To preach grace and truth to people who've never known condemnation, is absolutely fatal. But that's what the world has been doing." (Lloyd-Jones)

What that man can reel off of salaciousness and mean personal characterizations of opponents is shocking, to say the least."

"What happens on the other side of the Atlantic sooner or later also comes here, we often think. Actually, we don't have to wait. We're seeing signs of that already." Writes theologian, parson, former missionary, Dr. (Ph.D.; Intercultural Studies; Trinity Int. It's familiar – Gravås closely follows American political debate, and can report to us that Trump's the exceptionally bad guy; no need for others to be mentioned – they probably all are more decent people<sup>24</sup> – and so we have got some insight in U.S. politics from one who knows.

"What happens on the other side of the Atlantic sooner or later also comes here" – perhaps in other ways than Gravås has imagined.

But let's start with this: If you're not giving honor to the traditions of your grandparents and your great-grandparents, if you're not giving honor to God and Scripture, if you're not giving honor to those traditions, you have simply thrown the anchor away. And when somebody comes and tells you: You know, I just think that the world is going to be better off if America is ruled from Brussels – so it sounds funny now – it's not funny, that's what they teach in the Universities." (Dr. Yoram Hazony<sup>39</sup>)

"- ... it's happening, we are leaving tonight, it is a big historic moment – I would argue that it is, in terms of our Constitution and indeed in terms of our position in the world, the most significant moment since Henry the eighth took England out of the Church of Rome, and tonight we leave the Treaty of Rome." (Nigel Farage; Jan. 31, 2020<sup>40</sup>)

"- ... became the U.S Constitution – We the People – and the American Constitution is quite literally a nationalized, somewhat secularized form of the Sinai Covenant.

Now, of course you realize immediately, that prior to the Reformation the Church was not covenantal. In other words: when the Church dominated – in 380 – as historians put it, the Church tended, whether it was witting or unwitting – who knows – tended to copy Greek ideas – supremely Aristotle, think of its influence on Catholic philosophy – Greek ideas and Roman institutions. And Rome, of course, was hierarchical – under the Caesars. And the Catholic Church became hierarchical – under the Pope. Now you remember the most common statement about power in history is Lord Acton – all power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely. And you know what he was talking about when he said that – he was a great champion of freedom – he was talking about his own Church. He was against papal infallibility in 1870, and remarked famously: the Cardinals came in as shepherds and went out as sheep. And his point was very simple: when you have hierarchical power, and it is corrupted, power not only oppresses the weak, power corrupts the powerful. And when you have a Church based on power, whether it's a numerical power like a modern mega church, or a whole hierarchical structure based on power, it is always vulnerable to the temptations of corruption and oppression. In other words: the Church from 380, did not go to the Scriptures for its sources of leadership and structural organization – it copied Rome.

The Reformation tried to go to Scripture, but you notice compared with many Evangelicals, they didn't just think that Exodus was a forerunner of my salvation, our salvation – in other words personal salvation or kind of spiritual symbol of Salvation – no, they saw it as a template with lessons of how we should structure ourselves today, back in the 16th century." (Dr. Os Guinness<sup>41</sup>)

"Which translation we doe not for al that publish, upon erroneous opinion 1. of necessitie, that the holy Scriptures should alwayes be in our mother tongue, or 2. that they ought, or were ordained by God, to be read indifferently of al, or 3. could be easily vnderstood of euery one that readeth or heareth them in a knowen language; or 4. that they were not often, through man's malice or infirmitie, pernicious and much hurtful to many; 5. or that we generally and absolutely deemed it more conuenient in it-self, & more agreable to God's word and honour, or edification, of the faithful, to haue them turned into vulgar tongues, then to be kept & studied only in the Ecclesiastical learned Languages: Not for these nor any such like causes doe we translate this sacred Booke; but vpon special consideration of the present time, state, and condition of our countrie, vnto which diuers things are either necessarie, or profitable and medicinable now, that otherwise in the peace of the Church were neither much requisit, nor perchance wholly tolerable." (Preface; Rheims New Testament 1582<sup>42</sup> – "The Old Testament was translated shortly afterward but was not published until 1609–10, in Douai. The completed work was the only authorized Bible in English for Roman Catholics until the 20th century." (britannica.com))

"The purpose of the version, both the text and notes, was to uphold Catholic tradition in the face of the Protestant Reformation which up until the time of its publication had dominated Elizabethan religion and academic debate. As such it was an effort by English Catholics to support the Counter-Reformation." (Wikip.) With Dr. Benjamin G. Wilkinson:<sup>43</sup>

"The burning desire to give the common people the Holy Word of God, was the reason why Tyndale had translated it into English. No such reason impelled the Jesuits at Rheims. In the preface of their Rheims New Testament, they state that it was not translated into English because it was necessary that the Bible should be in the mother tongue, or that God had appointed the Scriptures to be read by all; but from the special consideration of the state of their mother country. This translation was intended to do on the inside of England, what the great navy of Philip II was to do on the outside. One was to be used as a moral attack, the other as a physical attack; both to reclaim England."

<sup>47</sup> "This customized Bible is a reminder that the "Christian industry" must do better to stand against the heretical and deadly "Christian" nationalism that we saw on full display on Jan. 6. It is like a spiritual virus, infecting our churches, homes and social institutions. Just as we take intentional actions to stop the spread of COVID, like wearing masks and staying six feet apart, we must take concrete steps to stop the spread of this theological virus," writes a letter to Zondervan – "Our endeavors were successful, and Zondervan did not enter into an agreement to publish an NIV [New International Version] translation of the "God Bless the USA" Bible," Dr. Jemar Tisby informs; <https://jemartisby.substack.com/p/three-years-ago-we-stopped-harper>. In closing – Vishal Mangalwadi:<sup>49</sup> "- ... Protestantism and Evangelicalism are two different entities. Though Evangelicals like to think of themselves as the theological heirs of Protestantism, but in fact – the problem in this regard, and many others that we will be considering, is simply this, that Protestantism built a great nation, Evangelicalism has destroyed that nation."

"- ... nation is a peculiarly Jewish and Protestant idea<sup>50</sup> – it's not a Catholic idea, it's not an Orthodox idea, it's not a Muslim idea, it's not a secular idea. But unfortunately, when secular and Catholic intellectuals in Europe are ganged up against the Protestant concept of nation, the American Evangelical movement surrendered to that onslaught of secular, Catholic attack on the concept of nation, and redefined nation as people group rather than as geopolitical entities."

"- ... when Germany dismisses the Bible as myth – German higher criticism, German theology dismisses the Bible as myth, then the Bible has no controlling authority over its politicians and its leaders, so nationalism can mean whatever Hitler wants it to mean. The problem is not with nationalism. American nationalism paid tons with great lives to build nations that it had conquered, through Marshall plan and others to build the nations. That was Biblical nationalism. But these secular Catholics – first Catholic and then secular – intellectuals who teamed up with the Catholic attack on the Biblical idea of nation and nationalism, they began to dominate the press, and by that time the Christian mind, the anti-intellectualism in America, had already become so strong, and the seminary movement had already isolated theology from the rest of life in such a way that there was no Christian intellectual here in America who could stand up and defend biblical nationalism and say that what America is doing, is Biblical; what Hitler has done is secularized corruption of Biblical nationalism."

Yoram Hazony:<sup>51</sup> "-The idea of the independent nation has, it has no Greek source, it has no Roman source; ... I'm not saying this in any way to disparage Greek and Roman sources – they have their own virtues and advantages. But here we've spent two days talking about, you know, the birth of the nation-state system in Westphalia. All of this is true, but it's rare that you hear it mentioned, that there's only one source on which the Westphalian system is based, and that's on Biblical tradition, the idea of, that instead of world empires, that we should have freedom of nations – this is one of many ideas that are only Biblical, that arrive in our tradition only from that source."

"And I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand, and he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years, and cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, ..."
